THE INDIANAPOLIS RACES.

OPENING DAY.

Tuesday was looked forward to with more than ordinary interest by the turfmen, not only of this city and the state, but by the sporting guild for a thousand miles around. Through an unfortunate combination of circumstances the finest race of the opening day, in which Red Cloud, Turner's Nettie, St. James and Gloster, who were announced to trot, was withdrawn. The two first named horses, as it was afterward explained to the spectators from the judge's stand, had trotted in Columbus, Ohio, the day before to decide a tie race. Afterward they traveled all night to reach the city in time for the opening day here. The attendance of turfman from all parts of the West and South is large and includes many of the leading horsemen in quarter was passed, broke badly and lost Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Kentucky. THE THIRD DAT'S RACES.

The largest crowd of the season yet, assemenjoy the races. In the morning the weather looked very auspicious for another fine day's racing. At Ho'clock the 2:40 class trotting race was continued from the night before, when Lottie had two heats and Little Alford one. The first prize was given to Hunter, second to Little Alford, and the association kept the third, owing to Lottie being shut out. The first shower ceased before the track was rendered unfit for use and had it not been for a second and beavier rain half an hour afterward the races might have been troted nicely, but the second wetting rendered all hopes of sending off the horses futile, and the judges at ast anneunced, as they saw the rain coming on, that the races would be postponed.

Oatmeal put in a pan of water is excellent food for them, and it is often wise to add some bran to it. Chickens should have bread and milk, chopped egg, cooked meat cut up fine, crumbs, sods of growing grass, fresh earth and in bad weather beer". The remark about goslings is strictly true. A sod of white clover will be improved by them the first day of their lives.

GOING TO BED,-The science of Health is credited with the following: We should never go to bed with a hope for rest, sleep, and perfect repose, until "all ready."
